Dear Mr. Jaideep,

As explained earlier, I have shared all the details regarding our actual material cost, conversion cost, delivery expenses, and the current market price of wood, which you are also aware of.

Considering the present market conditions, we need a minimum price of AED 74.50 per CFT to continue production and delivery without further losses. We kindly request you to consider this price for the time being.

Once raw material prices decrease and the market stabilizes, we will definitely review and reduce the price accordingly. However, at the current market level, we cannot manage our costs even at the existing price.

We fully understand that everyone is facing challenges due to the current market situation. As a supporting industry, we are also facing significant cost pressures and are trying our best to continue supporting your production without interruption.

Your understanding and support in this matter would be highly appreciated.

Thanks & Regards

Dear Jaideep,

Please note that you are continuing to send orders today without confirming the price increase request we communicated several times earlier.We will process and deliver the orders received up to 30th September at the existing price. However, after this date, we cannot continue deliveries without confirmation of the revised price.We kindly request you to understand our situation and confirm the revised price at the earliest so that we can continue the supply without interruption.

Thanks & Regards
